TBI Survivors and Family/Caregivers Support group

Group · 3.4K members

This group is for TBI survivors and their family members. TBI'S take a extreme toll and hardship on not only the survivor but their family members as well. And also in more ways than one. We support one another through the ups and downs with the recovery of a TBI. I personally think that is definitely one of the biggest struggles with our recoveries. So, plan on making new friends and we can use each other to help get through our most difficult times. There will be questions to answer in order for the admin to approve anybody to join the group. You will not be allowed in if you do not answer the question. Thanks!

Traumatic or Acquired Brain Injury Support Group

Thank you for joining the group. Tell a little about yourself. Are you a TBI or ABI Survivor? This Support Group is for anyone that is a Traumatic or Acquired Brain Injury survivors/caregivers. If you selling things like sunglasses, bags, post inappropriate or rude comments, etc., you will be deleted AND banned! Find advice and encouragement to those who desire help. My ideas for improvement are based on 20 years of experience as a TBI Survivor. These ideas work! TBI method is available free of charge PM me.

TBI Survivors and Caregivers Support Group

Group · 14K members

TBI survivors successes

Group · 5.1K members

TBI survivor's successes is a group for survivors of TBI to share some of what they view as success. (other brain injuries are also welcome to share) I have a TBI, I recognize that others deal with stroke, MS, aneurysms, and other neurologic conditions, my intent is not to exclude, it is to focus on what works.

TBi Life

Group · 1.3K members

Traumatic brain injury recoverers & care givers need real resources, equipping encouragement, and daily hope... share, give, build new relationships & gather insight on this new life of TBI. You CAN do this... "I can do all things through Him who strengthens me." [Philippians 4:13].

Traumatic Brain Injury Healing & Recovery Support Group

Group · 15K members

We are an online support group for survivors of brain injuries, caregivers and loved ones. Please feel free to post questions, experiential advice, trusted resources and your feelings on this life changing and challenging journey. If you join us please take a moment to check out our group rules pinned to the top of the page. Thank you!

TBI Worldwide - STOP the Silence for Traumatic Brain Injuries

Group · 3.3K members

Too often survivors and loved ones do not know where to go for resources, support groups, social activities, accessible community enjoyments. This group is to be a resource to post support groups and social events nation wide, advocacy opportunities to speak up in the community and to speak to law makers who help drive the direction Brain Injury community is going. Do you have a support group coming up, social event in your community, opportunity for advocacy - post to the group to share with others.

Amy's TBI Tribe | Concussion & Brain Injury

Group · 10K members

This is a group for dynamic discussions of brain injury, vestibular disorders, dysautonomia, concussion, and other neurological disorders. I wanted to create a safe space where my fellow survivors, and their friends and family can hang out without judgement. A place where we can share our stories and lift each other up!! This is a closed group, and only members can see posts and comments.

BRAIN INJURY UNFILTERED / TBI & PCS Survivors

Group · 4.1K members

This is a group for survivors of various brain injuries to vent, share about life, question things... and do be free to do so, even if it is NOT politically correct or might cause someone to be offended. •We are, however, adults, so do not post vulgarity or attack other members verbally. •Regular life and speaking with people around us is hard enough, let's give each other the grace to be REAL.

Brain Injury Support Group

Group · 13K members

This group is to provide online support by way of comforting words, a listening ear, sharing of experiences, etc to caregivers or survivors of those who are living with a brain injury. This is a support group and in no way affiliated with any medical entity nor do we dispense medical advice. We also caution our members to be wise, admin screen each applicant, and we monitor every post, however, there will always be those here on facebook who will attempt to exploit the vulnerable. Use caution when using pm or chat member to member: admin are NOT able to view those posts. Please do not respond to any requests to assist other members financially, no matter how heart moving that request may be. Let's help each other to keep this a safe and welcoming group! Before approval, we have three brief questions we would like you to answer, they will automatically appear when you request to join!

Building Your Life After Traumatic Brain Injury

Group · 1.2K members

As an Introduction to Our Community Hello and welcome to the Building Your Life After Traumatic Brain Injury Community. This is not a group, but a community. Please do not allow anyone to "put you in a box". A brain injury is a brain injury, however, your brain was injured. Please invite your friends to join our community. They are all welcome, regardless of how they experienced a brain injury. Below is the focus, mission, and vision for our community. Our community seeks to focus on solutions, not on symptoms. Our mission is to empower the individual, not the brain injury. Our mission is to give hope to families. We are not our brain injuries.

Traumatic Brain Injury Awareness and Support

Group · 12K members

This group was started back in 2010 to bring awareness, support and encouragement to TBI survivors and their friends and family members. This is a safe environment where you can share and be heard. ## TBI support group

Group · 468 members

This group is for traumatic brain injury suffers and their families. We all could use some support from time to time. I know for my husband Jeff and and I get frustrated with ours and I can imagine that it is very frustrating for the families and friends as well. I had my first one at the age of 14 and the next was only a couple of years ago. I am not not a dr in any way. I don't want to claim to be. You can post on the subject or just post for support. The only thing I don't want to see is everything about marijuana. I don't mind how it helps but not everything on it.

This group is for the spouses of our service members that suffer from PTSD and or TBI. It was created for us as the spouses to learn about how to handle situations help our soldiers and how to handle it, and support one another when we need it, and feel like no one else understands. PTSD and TBI effect thousands of soldiers and their families. They have random out bursts of anger, can't remember things, have night mares and many other things that we may not no how to deal with or how to help with as the spouses that dont know what they are going through. We can be here for each other as a community in knowing what one another is going through and get advise, vent, or just to talk. This group will be drama free, and there will be no bashing of any kind towards anyone! We are here to get help, not be put down! Venting about situations will be aloud but no names of any sort are to be mentioned, and vents can not be about bashing someone! This is a closed group so that everything that is discussed will stay private! We are in this together and need to stick together!
